

RUSH PRISONERS WEST WITH GREAT SECRECY; HAS BIG DYNAMITE PLOT BEEN REALLY EXPOSED?

DETECTIVES OF THE BURNS AGENCY HURRY SUSPECTS
THEY HAVE IN CUSTODY
TO LOS ANGELES TO STAND TRIAL FOR ALLEGED DYNA-MITE OUTRAGES.

RAISING DEFENSE MONEY

Labor Leaders Loud in Their Assertions That Great Injustice Is Being Done Their Orders By the Arrests of the Alleged Heads of the Dynamite Gang Responsible For Many Crimes.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Indianapolis, Ind., April 24.—Detective Burns, whose arrest of three men alleged concerned in the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times, last October created a nation-wide sensation, is expected here today from Cincinnati, Ohio, where he seized four hundred pounds of dynamite stored in the home of James McNamara, father of one of the men under arrest. It is said that more arrests will follow soon.

Denounce Methods.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Chicago, April 24.—Chicago labor leaders are furiously denouncing the "Russian police methods" used in arresting John J. McNamara, secretary of the International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' Union, his brother, James W. McNamara, and Orville E. McNamara, who are being taken to Los Angeles to face charges of the destruction of the plant of the Los Angeles Times with a score of lives.

The "Third Degree" methods used in securing a ninety-page typewritten confession of guilt from McNamara is also deplored and a serious breach between capital and labor is predicted.
More Evidence.

Indianapolis, April 24.—With detective W. J. Burns in Ohio, unearthing more "goods" to bear out his contention that John J. McNamara and his brothers, James W. McNamara, were at the head of a gang of dynamite who have wrecked scores of buildings in the past, labor leaders voiced their indignation at what they styled "the lynchings" of McNamara here and the "third evidence" to convict him.

Find Goods.

"Today the 'goods' found by Burns were taken from the building occupied by the Structural Iron Workers Union and stored in some secret place.
The 'goods' consisted of one hundred pounds of dynamite, nitro glycerine, caps, fuses, rubber soled shoes and clocks of the pattern used in setting off dynamite charges.

Grand Jury Called.

The Marion County Grand Jury convened today to investigate the finding of dynamite in the basement of the Athenaeum Central Life building in which the offices of John J. McNamara were located. Prosecuting Attorney Baker said today if the dynamite was "planted" he intended to bring that charge.

Premises Big Sum.
Near Janesville, the most careful investigation of the defense of the secretary McNamara of the Structural Iron Workers Union, arrested in connection with the alleged dynamite plots, was the promise made today by President Meyer of the Western Federation of Miners.

Wood Confident.

Chicago, April 24.—Captain Wood, head of the city detectives today said
the evidence against the prisoners was complete and credit for their capture belonged to detective Burns. He said that McNamara was an anarchist of the worst type.

Goes To Meeting.

Secretary Knicker of the Chicago Federation of Labor today hurried to Indianapolis. He declined to state his business, but it is rumored labor men from all parts of the country are flocking there to prepare for the defense of the prisoners.

Lawyer Engaged.

John Fitzpatrick and Clarence Darrow the noted labor and criminal lawyer also left for Indianapolis this afternoon.

To Send Witnesses.

San Francisco, April 24.—It was learned today the local police will dispatch witnesses to Los Angeles who will probably identify J. W. McNamara as "Brien" in connection with the Times explosion when the latter arrives.

Fourth Man.

It is reported here David Kaplan,
the fourth man wanted in connection with the Times explosion is under arrest and is being rushed to Los Angeles from the east.

Locate Men On Train.

Topeka, Kas., April 24.—James W.
McNamara and Orville McNamara, passed through here at noon on Santa Fe train No. 3. They were checked to detectives of the Burns agency and locked in a compartment in the Pullman car Carizzo.

Burns Located.

Toledo, Ohio, April 24.—William J.
Burns, the detective appeared here today. It is reported he will probably make another arrest in the famous dynamite case here. He seized a grip at the Union station checked on April 11 which he said was the property of
J. W. McNamara.

A Speedy Trial.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 24.—When John J. McNamara and his brother and Orville McNamara arrive here to face charges of complicity in the destruction of the Times building they will be given a speedy trial according to statements of both police and officials of affiliations.

To Be Defended.
Labor leaders have decided to defend the prisoners, the first step to be to attempt their release by habeas corpus proceedings.

Doubts His Guilt.
Milwaukee, Wis., April 24.—Serious doubts as to the guilt of Orville Mc-Namara, alleged confessor of dynamite outrages, and who implicated
John J. McNamara, secretary and treasurer of the International Iron Workers' Union, were expressed here today by J. H. Ballou and Mrs. Elizabeth Langhardt, who lived as neighbors to McNamara during his residence here a number of years ago.

McNamara, they say, had a spotless reputation, devoted to his family, a model husband and father.
He was a worker at the iron structural trade, they asserted, and later moved to Chicago, from where the families communicated for some months by means of friendly letters.

FIREMEN DIED IN TERRIBLE AGONY

James McNamara of Green Bay Scalded by Escaping Steam When Wrecker Was Derailed.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Green Bay, April 24.—James Mc-Namara, aged eighteen, of this city, a fireman on the Northwestern wrecker, was so badly scalded by escaping steam when the wrecker was derailed and wrecked near Gillette Sunday that he died at his home here today.

FOUGHT MAD DOG WITH BARE HANDS

Farm Hand Living Near Manitowish Killed Beast Which Had Been Terrifying People of City.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Manitowish, Wis., April 24.—Stanley
Speake, a farm hand, killed a mad dog which had been at large for twenty-four hours, throttling the animal with his hands. The dog escaped the police and was scourged for all day, and night. Speake came across the dog in a straw stack and being unarmed, was forced to fight the dog with his hands.

GAVE HIMSELF UP AS NAVY DESERTER

Man Who Left Warship Nebraska and Did Not Return After Furlough, Surrendered to Police at Racine.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Racine, Wis., April 24.—Le Roy
Riley, aged twenty-five, of Rochester, N. Y., walked into police headquarters and surrendered as a deserter from the warship Nebraska. He said he left Hampton Roads on a furlough
March 18 and overstayed the time limit but had decided to go back and take his medicine.

WILL NOT RELEASE CORLISS CONSTABLE

Judge Refuses to Consider Petitions of Citizens For Parole of Man Convicted of Larceny.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Racine, Wis., April 24.—Thomas Burns, a constable at Corliss, who was re-elected in the spring elections
after being convicted of larceny as a bailor, must serve his term of one year in the state prison at Waupun. His petition for parole signed by hundreds of influential citizens and eleven of the jurors who found him guilty was today denied by Judge DeLeon of the circuit court.

COTTON FRAUD CASE SET FOR THIS WEEK

Trial of J. W. Knight For Fraudulent
Use of Mails In Promoting Brokerage Firm Will Be Heard
By U. S. Court.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Huntsville, Ala., April 24.—It is expected that the trial of John W.
Knight will be reached in the United States circuit court here this week.
The case, popularly known as the "cotton fraud" case, has attracted national attention. Mr. Knight was the managing partner of the cotton firm of Knight and Yancey, which valued about a year ago with investments amounting to over $5,000,000.
Soon after the collapse of the firm
Mr. Knight was indicted on a charge of fraudulent use of the United States mails.

Take Part In Conference Which Opens In Washington
Tomorrow.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., April 24.—Delegates and visitors representing ten countries have arrived in Washington to attend the second International Congress on Child Welfare, which is to begin its sessions tomorrow under the auspices of the National Congress of Mothers. The gathering will last seven days. The list of speakers includes a number of world's experts on questions affecting the care of dependent and delinquent children,
and diplomats, statesmen and sociologists of wide reputation. President Taft will receive the delegates at the White House next Monday afternoon.

BOYS ESCAPE FROM A REFORM SCHOOL

Authorities Are Searching Minnesota and Wisconsin For Twelve Lads
Who Left Red Wing
Institution.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Red Wing, Minn., April 24.—Police in search of Wisconsin and Minnesota lads are on the lookout for twelve boys from sixteen to twenty years old who escaped from the state reform school here last night by crawling from a basement window. Prison guards and local authorities are scouring the surrounding country today.

INJURED IN FALL; SEEKING DAMAGES

Stephen Kelsey of Kilbourn Seeks $5,200 For Alleged Injuries In Fall Down Stairway.

In an action before Judge Grimm, started in the circuit court this afternoon, Stephen Kelsey of Kilbourn is suing E. E. Patch of Beloit for $5,200 for damages alleged to have been sustained upon the premises of the latter. The defendant, E. E. Patch, keeps a grocery store in Beloit and while in the act of doing some trading there Mr. Kelsey, it is said, fell through a stairway to the basement, receiving injuries to the shoulder and face for which he seeks the above amount in damages. The jury was drawn from the special venire and from the left-over jurors of last week,
and the case was taken up slightly after three o'clock.

NEW SECRETARY WAS CHOSEN AT MEETING

Industrial and Commercial Club Offer
Position To Frank E. Lane of Milwaukee.

At the meeting of the directors of the Industrial and Commercial club
this noon, the position of secretary was offered to Frank E. Lane of Milwaukee, and he will be notified at once.
It is probable that he will accept as he was in Janesville to meet with the directors a week ago, and fully discussed the matter at that time.
The directors also heard reports from several committees. J. P. Monat a report on his committee's work, as did Mr. Clark of the legislative committee, explaining many of the bills
now pending before the legislature.
N. L. Carle and Mr. Weber of the insurance committee were present and reported on their committee's work.
Z. D. Seckler, trade representative of the Pennsylvania railroad was a guest of the club.

Election Expenses: Fifty cents was spent by J. W. Richardson in securing his election as sealer of weights and measures, according to a statement of election expenses filed with City Clerk Roy Cummings.

MAY PROBE CHARGES AGAINST PROFESSOR

Pittsburg Presbytery Considering In Secret Session Hearsy Overture
Directed Against Union College
Professor.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Pittsburg, Pa., April 24.—A special meeting of the Pittsburg Presbytery went into session behind closed doors today to consider the overture directed against Professor William Adams
Brown of the Union Theological Seminary, New York. The overture, which was introduced by the Rev. S. L. Mc-Laren of this city, asks for an investigation of certain alleged, heated statements made by the New York professor in reference to the Bible and miracles. It is believed likely that the local Presbytery will decide to refer the overture to the Presbyterian General Assembly which is to meet in annual session in Atlantic City next month.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Drove Off Suggy Wheel: In a mix-up on South Main street Saturday evening about 10:15, J. B. Frazer drove his automobile into a carriage in which Oscar Karberg and J. G.
Goodman were riding, removing a car wheel and throwing the men from the buggy. Mr. Frazer had been following another car down Main street and started to pass it when the men in the buggy drove in his path. The damage done was slight.

Bonds Filed: Of the newly elected officers, the following filed their bonds Saturday afternoon with City Clerk Cummings: City Engineer, C. V.
Kerch; Street Commissioner, Daniel
Williams; Assessors, C. K. Millmore of the Fourth Ward; and James Clough of the Fifth Ward.

Special Examinations: In view of the fact that there is said to be a tendency toward hurrying the pupils
through the country schools, County Superintendent Antfield has arranged for some examinations to take place
May 19-20 for pupils finishing the seventh grade, which they must pass before being admitted to the eighth.
They will be held in designated places in the county.

Civil Cases: In the civil case of H.
V. McChes against J. R. Stevens, ad-judgment was taken when the case was called in municipal court this morning, the time for the hearing of the arguments of the attorneys being set over for thirty days. The action of D. J. McGinn versus W. W. Skinner, the returns for which were to have been made today, was settled out of court.

MAY SEND GUNBOAT TO PROTECT LIVES OF THE AMERICANS

Americans at Acapulco Will Be Protected by Mexican Government
In Case Rebels Attack City.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, April 24.—The Mexican government may send a gunboat to Acapulco to protect Americans in that city in the event of an attack by insurrectos. The state department was so advised today by Ambassador Wilson.

At El Paso.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
El Paso, April 24.—Representatives of the Diaz and Insurgent factions are ers were the winners at the game of "Forty-five." Dinner was served later at the evening at the Myers hotel and the guests departed for Beloit in a special car.

ADJOURNMENT IS NOW TALKED OF JUNE FOURTH IS DATE NOW BE-ING SERIOUSLY CONSIDERED.

THE LEGISLATURE IS BUSY

Many Bills Have Not Been Reported
Out of Committee's Yet and There Is Still Considerable To Be Done.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]

Madison, Wis., April 24.—Leaders in the legislature are now contemplating the time adjournment of that body on June 3. This, it is pointed out, will give five weeks in which to carry up the remaining business and one week for the governor after the last bill reaches him. In round numbers 1,500 bills have been introduced in the two houses this session, 1,000 in the assembly and 500 in the senate. Thus far not more than one-fifth or 300 of the measures have been disposed of. It is expected that the usual slaughter of the unimportant bills will commence in earnest within the next few days and continue until most of them have been disposed of.

The resolution in the senate for adjournment on May 5 will come up for consideration early this week. It will doubtless meet a successful opposition from those who wish to continue business until the time to time until business arrives at such a condition that some degree of certainty can be attained as to the best date for the wind-up of business. It is now thought probable June 3 is a time most likely.

The bill providing a system of workmen's compensation will come before the senate this week for concurrence in the assembly amendment providing that if the section relating to the following servant, doctrine and exempting employers of less than four persons, is held unconstitutional, this shall not invalidate the remainder of the law.
Many of the big employers are opposed to the amendment. If it is adopted, they may be placed at a disadvantage
as compared with their employees.

The general opinion, however, appears to be that the senate will concur in the amendment as the senate's end of the joint committee on industrial insurance agreed to it prior to its adoption by the lower house.

One of the big and most important questions of legislation this week centers in the action of the assembly on the James bill conferring upon women the right to vote if the measure is approved by the voters of 1912. The bill will appear for action Wednesday, but with a divided report of the committee on elections, five members being in favor and two against it. Women legislators who have worked for the measure declare they are sure it will be approved by the assembly as 65 per cent of the members of that body are pledged for its support.

The so-called "Anti-Ani" bill giving voters an opportunity to express their second choice of candidates for nomination at primary elections, will come up for consideration in the upper house this week. It passed the assembly with little opposition and will doubtless become a law.

The corrupt practices and income tax bills are slated for legislative action this week. A new draft of the bill for taxation of incomes has been prepared by a special committee in charge of the subject. Tax Commissioner Killebrew has advised the committee in the preparation of this bill and it is expected to be a model of its kind. The measure is certain to encounter lively opposition on the part of persons of wealth who do not believe in this method of taxation.

The new bill providing for a bank guarantee deposit fund or insurance of bank deposits is slated to come before the senate late this week. National banks and some of the larger state banks of Wisconsin are opposed to insurance of bank funds. They believe it would give the smaller banks a greater degree of credit and stability at their expense. In other words the bill would make the little banks as strong as the big ones and hence would tend to make them more formidable business rivals. Public opinion supports the measure which provides that all state banks shall annually for four years set aside as a deposit guaranty fund, an amount of money equal to one half of one percent of the average amount of their deposits. It is expected at the end of four years
this fund would amount to approximately $250,000, which would be sufficient to meet the claims of depositors on any bank that might fail. The new measure has a referendum clause providing it shall not go into effect until approved by the voters at the general elections of 1912.

The Donald good roads bill, which passed the senate three weeks ago is yet in the hands of the assembly to which it was referred. Assemblyman John Jones of Monroe county, who introduced a bill on the same subject, is expected to lead the fight against the Donald measure. The main trouble is apparently on the availability of having the law administered by a salaried or a non-salaried commissioner

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED IN MOST PLEASANT MANNER

Mr. and Mrs. William Wille of Town of Fulton Entertained Friends in Honor of Former's Birthday.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Edgerton, April 23.—Sunday, at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. William Wille, one mile south of Edgerton, in Fulton township, there was gathered together a happy company of invited neighbors and friends, the occasion being a surprise party on Mr. Wille, who on that day celebrated his 55th birthday anniversary. The guests came and entered upon the festive occasion in joyous spirits and proved to be one of continuous enjoyment throughout the day. At 12:30 a sumptuous dinner was served. One of the pleasant events of the afternoon was a boat ride on Rock River in John Wille's launch. A six o'clock supper brought the day's happy event to a close. Mr. Wille was the recipient of numerous valuable gifts in remembrance of the occasion. Mr. Wille has been a resident of Fulton township for nearly thirty years. At present he is serving his town as town treasurer for the second term.

ARE RUSHING WORK ON MILWAUKEE TO SPARTA EXTENSION OF ROAD

Work on the Milwaukee to Sparta extension of the Northwestern system is being rushed and prospects for completion are propitious at present, according to advices received by officials of the road here. Recent additions to the crews at work on the new line have increased the total number to eighteen. Several of the crews which have been added passed through this point from Chicago recently.

This line, which is known as the Milwaukee, Sparta and Northwestern, will connect Milwaukee and Sparta and promises to be one of the most important divisions of the road in the state. Some of the most types of engines, used in the mountains usually, will be used over this division after its completion, it is said.

George A. Young.
George A. Young, of Chicago, a brickman on the Northwestern road, passed away at a Chicago hospital Saturday. Pneumonia was the cause of his death. Only a month ago Mr. Young was married to Miss Bernhardt Falk and both the young people had many friends in this city. The funeral will be held tomorrow from the home in Chicago, and many friends from this city will attend.

Mrs. Mary Jane Hoppgood.
Mrs. Mary Jane Hoppgood passed away at her home, 197 North Main street, Saturday morning about half past four o'clock. Mrs. Hoppgood had been an invalid for over two years past and death came to relieve her of the suffering which was born most patiently.

She was born at Syracuse, New York, Aug. 1, 1826, and was married to the city of her birth, in 1863. Mr. and Mrs. Hoppgood came west to seek their fortunes and they settled in the town of Plymouth, where they resided for about ten years, until the death of Mr. Hoppgood. At this time Mrs. Hoppgood moved to this city, where she has since resided.

The deceased was a woman of sterling character and beloved by all who knew her. She possessed the characteristics of the early settlers of the country, and was endowed with many beautiful qualities. She was a member of the Plymouth church.

She leaves two sons and two daughters: Olney of Michigan; W. C. Hoppgood of Rockford, Ill.; Mrs. Frank Ward of Dallas, Oregon; and Mrs. Mary Brown of this city. She also leaves five grandsons and four granddaughters. The funeral will be held from the home at half past eleven tomorrow morning, and from the Plymouth church at two o'clock in the afternoon. Interment will be made in Plymouth cemetery.

How the Cat Does It.
My method of producing literature is on the "spur of the moment" order, and resembles a cat having a fit. A cat hardly ever plans out a fit very carefully. When it gets ready to have a fit it goes ahead and has it; sometimes it is a good fit, and sometimes it turns out to be a mere fizzle, and sometimes the cat thinks it is having one of the best fits it ever had, and then the fit critics say it is a mighty poor fit.—Ellis Parker Butler, in New York Times.

In order to reduce our stock of this season's New Dress Goods we will offer the entire stock (colored only) at start ling price reductions.

This semi-annual sale of Wool Dress Goods has become one of the important events on The Big Store's Sales Calendar. Every manufacturer, with whom we deal on a broad scale, contributes to its success. The qualities and variety this season are greater than ever before. The character of the goods involved (many importations) is in every respect equal to the high standard of quality for which The Big Store's goods are known. The offerings without exception are by far the most attractive we have ever had and should make a forceful appeal to all who have yet to purchase new dress goods for this season's wear. Never have we been so well prepared to show an extensive line as at the present time. The prices are so temptingly low that economy will dictate that you come and make your purchase HERE and NOW.

New England League Begins Season.
Lowell, Mass., April 24.—The New England baseball league, which has steadily increased in strength since its organization a few years ago until it now stands pre-eminent among the class B organizations, started the season of 1911 today with bright prospects of a successful year. The circuit remains the same as last season. In the opening games Lawrence plays at Fall River, Brockton at Haverhill, Lynn at New Bedford and Worcester at Lowell. This year's playing schedule provides for 126 games.

To Test Mule's Endurance.
Oklahoma City, Okla., April 24.—In order to put to a practical test his belief that the mule is superior to the horse for long-distance traveling, Robert W. Freeman, who has had nearly thirty years' experience as a cowboy in Colorado and Wyoming, will start from this city early tomorrow morning on an attempt to ride an Oklahoma mule to New York city in twenty-five days. So far as known it will be the first effort ever made to establish an endurance record with a mule. The route of the trip will be by way of St. Louis to Chicago, and then east to Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and into New York.

Bowling Tourney At Vancouver.
Vancouver, B. C., April 24.—Knights of the temple from Seattle, Spokane and Tacoma and from all the leading cities of British Columbia are here to compete in the fourth annual tournament of the Vancouver Bowling Club. The event is the most important of its kind to be held yearly in the Northwest and never fails to attract a large entry. The competitions start tonight and will continue until the end of the week.

New League in the Northwest.
Boise, Idaho, April 24.—The newly-organized Union Baseball Association has everything in readiness for the start of its initial season. The association begins its career under conditions that promise well for the success of the organization. The circuit comprises Salt Lake, Missoula, Helena, Great Falls, Butte and Boise. W. H. Lucas, president of the Northwestern league, is the head of the association. Among the club managers are John McCloskey, Dick Corley, Cliff Hadden, ship and Bill Joyce, all of whom were former star players in major league teams.

THEFT OF CATCHER'S MASK BROKE UP BASEBALL GAME

Janesville Cubs and Cardinals Forced to Cease Hostilities After Third Inning Yesterday.

The theft of the catcher's mask by some of the youthful spectators at the game between the Janesville "Cubs" and "Cardinals" baseball clubs, broke up the game after three innings had been played. The advantage was then in favor of the Cubs, who had annexed three hits to a game egg which the Cardinals secured. Green recruited this year, was on the slab for the third time and put over some boners that kept the Cardinal batters merely stirring up the atmosphere. The Cubs indulged in fielding and batting practice after their mask had been "appropriated." Batteries—Cubs: Green and Moran. Cardinals: Connell and Hayes. Umpire—Dobbin.

The Cubs play the first game of their season next Sunday at Ho-Na-Ne-Gah park.

AT THE DAY HOUSES

Schumann-Helk On the Suffragette Question.

"There is one thing about the American woman I do not understand, and that is her interest in the suffragette question," says Mng. Schumann-Helk the celebrated contralto and proud mother of eight children. I do not understand why some American women are so anxious for woman suffrage, because the American woman has so much liberty to live out her life as she wants; and what she does not want to do she does not need to do. She does not need suffrage. It is good for the women of Europe, but not for Americans—for "us" Americans.
Charles sent at all prices are still available at F. H. Koebelin's store for Schumann-Helk's concert at the Myers theater, Tuesday evening, April 25.

AN OLD REMEDY

Beef, Iron and Wine is one of the good old remedies that has outlived a score of patent tonics, reasonable in price, a satisfactory tonic, appetizer and mild stimulant. There is nothing better for that tired, worried, listless feeling or run-down condition of the system after illness of any kind. It tones the whole system, stimulates digestion, gives you appetite, is a good iron tonic for weak, pale children or old people, far more effective than malt extracts or so-called wine of cod liver oil that depend upon their stimulants alone. Beef, Iron and Wine tones and sustains, it assists nature to recuperate, it's a food to the sick and nursing mothers.

Mr. Pfennig, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist, prepares our Beef, Iron and Wine. It's always fresh, made from the very best extract of beef, wholesome, properly aged sherry wine and soluble iron.
We don't sell ready-made, hand-made, factory-manufactured Beef, Iron and Wine. We believe and know that medicine should be compounded only by the experienced and scientifically trained.

Try a bottle of our Beef, Iron and Wine as made by Mr. Pfennig, 75c a full pint. Note its wholesome taste and invigorating effect. You will be more than satisfied. Get it at the Badger Drug Co., Milwaukee and River Bls. The drug store that makes a specialty of drugs.

Compliment of Envy.
Let the public once recognize that a man is doing some one thing even a trifle better than it has ever been done before, and he is quickly advertised by a band of cheap competitors who neglect their own affairs for the sole purpose of knocking and sitting up to take notice of him and his increasing business. In one particular he is doubly secure: He will have no real competitors—envy is a compliment.

Better Collateral.

The diamond reef in Pike county, Ark., may be the "real thing," but the tomato crop in little Delaware looks like better collateral. Three million dollars in tomatoes makes a bravo show.—New York Sun.

An Insultation.

Household Remedy

Taken in the Spring for Years.

Ralph Rust, Willis, Mich., writes: "Hood's Sarsaparilla has been a household remedy in our home as long as I can remember. I have taken it in the spring for several years. It has no equal for cleansing the blood and expelling the humors that accumulate during the winter. Being a farmer and exposed to bad weather, my system is often affected, and I often take Hood's Sarsaparilla with good results. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself. There is no 'just as good.' Get it today in usual liquid form or tablets called Sarsatabs."

2 hundred and 77 dollars and a half is the outside price to members of this great piano club, remember

That there can be no misunderstanding let us again tell, that 2 hundred and 77 dollars and 50 cents includes everything the Skavlem piano club member has to pay. In other words, it is the outside price or the extreme price.

The club member who pays 2 hundred and 77 dollars and a half, pays at the rate of 1 dollar and 25 cents a week, taking, therefore, the full limit of time in which to pay for his piano, 218 weeks. If he wishes, however, he may pay for it in less time.

If he pays for it in less time he is entitled to a less price.

For every week he lessens or shortens the time he gets a rebate of 15 cents in cash.

Thus if he shortens the time he takes to pay for his piano one week, he lessens the price 15 cents. If he shortens it two weeks, he lessens the price 30 cents. If he shortens it three weeks, he lessens the price 45 cents, and so on.

Or take another illustration:

Suppose a club member was to pay 2 dollars and 50 cents a week instead of 1 dollar and 25 cents a week, he would pay for his piano exactly one-half the time of the member who only paid 1 dollar and 25 cents a week, wouldn't he?

One-half the time is 109 weeks. He would therefore receive a rebate in cash of 109 times 15 cents, which amounts 16 dollars and 35 cents.

"Surely that is great value. Guess I'll get one of those Club Pianos for my room."

Taking 16 dollars and 35 cents from 2 hundred and 77 dollars and 50 cents, you have 2 hundred and 61 dollars and 15 cents left—the price the club member pays for his piano who pays 2 dollars and 50 cents a week instead of 1 dollar and 25 cents a week.

Do you see the idea? You are not compelled to pay only 1 dollar and 25 cents a week. You may pay faster if you wish, and the faster you pay the less the price.

HAVE CONTRACTED FOR 10,000 ACRES

AGENTS FOR THE ROCK COUNTY SUGAR CO. NOTIFIED TO ACCEPT NO MORE ACREAGE.

BANNER YEAR AT FACTORY

Means a Hundred Thousand Tons of Beets to Be Sliced and Made into Sugar During the Coming Season.

M. R. Osburn, vice president of the Rock County Sugar company, on Saturday last notified all the field agents for the company, to immediately discontinue accepting any more contracts for acreage as the limit has been reached for handling the output of the local factory.

Since the spring campaign for contracts began the local company has received contracts for ten thousand acres. This means that on the average of ten tons per acre, there will be one hundred thousand tons of beets to be sliced and made into sugar during the "run" of 1911 and 1912, which is fifty-five thousand more tons than was handled by the local factory the past season.

To furnish seed for this amount of acreage, five cars containing three hundred bags of beet sugar seed each, a total of 150,000 pounds of seed, has been purchased, and one of the reasons for stopping contracts is that the supply of beet seed is exhausted and no more can be obtained.

To handle this immense amount of acreage the Sugar company is increasing the daily capacity of its machinery from six hundred tons daily to seven hundred tons. A force of twenty men are now employed on this work and as the weather becomes more suitable for work the force will be increased to some two hundred.

The company has now working as field agents for the agricultural department twenty-seven men and when the planting of the seeds begin will bring into the territory some seven hundred Belgian and Southern Russia beet workers to be placed throughout the territory where needed.

These seven hundred workers together with the present force will bring the total of persons employed during the coming summer months by the local company at nearly a thousand persons. There will be nearly the same number employed during the winter months when the beets are being delivered and handled.

Not only is the acreage larger this year than ever before but the contracts call for more money to the grower, if they pass the same test of 16.5, as this past year. The average per ton received by the growers this past season was $5.35, while with the same test the coming season will see them receiving $6.45 per ton, a decided increase.

The immense amount of acreage and increased tonnage received will cause the factory to start operations early in October and they will have to continue until at least the middle of February. This will be an exceptional run and will break all former records.

The acreage is divided principally in Rock, Racine, Kenosha, Dane, Jefferson, Fond du Lac and Milwaukee counties and through the tier of northern Illinois counties. Beets for the local factory are grown within twelve miles of Chicago and as far west as the Mississippi river, and as far north as Illinois.

To facilitate the work of the field agents of the company the factory has just purchased eight small automobiles, which with the three or four have will give them a total of eleven in all. It has been found by experience that both time and money can be saved by the use of autos and in consequence the agents covering the largest territories will be supplied with cars for their use.

At the present time the management and their assistants are working overtime to get the beet seed to the farmers in time for the planting season and it is being rushed out from the distributing depots with all speed possible.

THREE ARRAIGNED FOR DRUNKENNESS

One Took the Pledge and Was Released and Other Two Paid Fines of Three Dollars and Costs.

Liquor taken as a bait for overwrought nerves was given as the cause for his arrest and appearance in municipal court this morning on a charge of drunkenness by George Merriam, a teamster. Merriam, however, was quite penitent and anxious to reform. It was his first appearance in court and after Merriam had taken the pledge Judge Fifield adjourned the case for a month. The case, however, is held open in case Merriam "falls off the wagon."

William Graves of Evansville, was another offender on the same charge. Graves was arraigned on the same charge about a year ago. He paid a fine of $3 and costs of $1.10. George Engler, another whom frequent libations caused his arrest, was given a similar fine by the judge and made arrangements to pay.

OFFICERS KEEP A CLOSE WATCH

FOR THE MISSING CHICAGO GIRL THOUGHT STOLEN BY GYPSIES.

NO TRACES DISCOVERED

Both Chief Appleby and Sheriff Ransom inspect Several Camps and Lonely Vans.

Despite the "tip" received by the local authorities Friday night that the Chicago police felt certain that Elsie Paroubek, the missing Chicago girl, was in a mysterious way somewhere near Janesville, the most careful inspection of all the wagons of these wandering people, who have been in the vicinity of Janesville, no trace of the girl has been found.

A report Saturday afternoon late, that a woman and a child which somewhat answered the description of the missing one, were seen in a lonely van several miles north of the city, led to a hurried trip there, only to find it was one of the wagons that had been inspected in the early morning.

Just where the seventh van that was in the party, under the leadership of George Ephraim, when it camped near Delavan Thursday, went to, remains unexplained. It was Ephraim's camp that was raided Saturday morning without success.

Reports of several other thefts in rural districts by this band are being made. At Robert Ashton's farm one woman threatened Mrs. Ashton with dire things if she did not give her a chicken and fill her bag with oats. Her husband came on the scene at a critical moment and chased the woman off the place with a pitchfork.

William Ward, the draughtman, was subjected to annoyance near the Beet Sugar factory Saturday morning, from the same party, who claimed on his wagon and tried to pick his pocket. Loss of several minor articles from the down town stores the Gypsies visited were also reported.

Sheriff Ransom and Chief Appleby spent considerable time Saturday night and Sunday watching the different outfits that were in and near the city, but are confident the child was not in any of the wagons seen.

Malaria in Children.

Dr. Cardantia says Infancy less than a year old has a higher tendency to malaria than any other age. Malarial children's blood should be kept disinfected with quinine, as they are the main carriers of malaria. Mosquitoes catch it from malarial children before starting an epidemic of chills, fever and ague. He recommends chocolate quinine tablets, three grains a day, for children.

Sir John Herschel and Buffon are other famous names associated with sun cooking. Sun cooking—roasting and boiling by sunlight instead of coal or gas—has been going on for three hundred years. There are sun stoves that roast a chicken or boil a soup to perfection. They are only used, however, by scientists.

KEITH OF THE BORDER

A TALE OF THE PLAINS
By RANDALL DARRISH
AUTHOR OF "MY LADY OF THE SOUTH"
WHEN WILDERNESS WAS KING ETC.
ILLUSTRATIONS BY DEANER HILLY

(Copyright, A. C. McClurg & Co., 1910.)

CHAPTER I.

The Plainsman.

The man was riding just below the summit of the ridge, occasionally lifting his head so as to gaze across the crest, shading his eyes with one hand, to thus better concentrate his vision. Both horse and rider plainly exhibited signs of weariness, but every movement of the latter showed ceaseless vigilance, his glance ranging the barren ridges, a brown Winchester lying cocked across the saddle pommel, his left hand taut on the rein. Yet the horse he bestrode scarcely required restraint, advancing slowly, with head hanging low, and only occasionally breaking into a brief trot under the impetus of the spur.

The rider was a man approaching thirty, somewhat slender and long of limb, but possessing broad, squared shoulders above a deep chest, sitting the saddle easily in plainsman fashion, yet with an erectness of carriage which suggested military training. The face under the wide brim of the weather-worn slouch hat was clean-shaven, browned by sun and wind, and strongly marked, the chin slightly prominent, the mouth firm, the gray eyes full of character and daring. His dress was that of rough service, plain leather "chaps," showing marks of hard usage, a gray woolen shirt turned low at the neck, with a kerchief knotted loosely about the slender bronzed throat. At one hip dangled the holster of a "forty-five," on the other hung a canvas-covered canteen. His figure and face to be noted anywhere, a man from whom you would expect both thought and action, and one who seemed to exactly fit into his wild environment.

Where he rode was the very western extreme of the prairie country, billowed like the sea, and from off the crest of its higher ridges, the wide level sweep of the faraway mountains, yet the actual commencement of that drear, barren expanse was fully ten miles distant, while all about where he rode the conformation was irregular, comprising narrow valleys and swelling mounds, with here and there a sharp ravine, risen from the rock and invisible until one drew up startled at its very brink. The general trend of depression was undoubtedly southward leading toward the valley of the Arkansas, yet irregular ridges occasionally cut across, adding to the confusion. The entire surrounding landscape presented the same aspect, with no special object upon which the eye could rest for guidance—no tree, no upheaval of rock, no peculiarity of summit, no snake-like trail—all about extended the same dull, dead monotony of brown, sun-baked hills, with slightly greener depressions lying between, interspersed by patches of sand or the white gleam of alkali. It was a dreary, deserted land, parched under the hot summer sun, brightened by no vegetation, excepting sparse bunches of buffalo grass or an occasional stunted sage bush, and disclosing nowhere the slightest sign of human habitation.

The rising sun reddened the crest of the hills, and the rider, halting his willing horse, and motionless, gazing steadily into the southwest. Apparently he perceived nothing there unusual, for he slowly turned his body about in the saddle, sweeping his eyes, inch by inch, along the line of the horizon, until the entire circuit had been completed. Then his compressed lips smiled slightly, his hand unconsciously patting the horse's neck.

"I reckon we're still alone, old girl," he said quietly, a bit of Southern drawl in the voice. "Well try for the trail, and take it easy."

He swung stiffly out of the saddle, and with reins dangling over his shoulder, began the slower advance on foot, the exhausted horse trailing behind. It was not a situation in which one could feel certain of safety, for any ridge might conceal the wary footmen he sought to avoid, yet he proceeded now with renewed confidence. It was the summer of 1868, and the place the very heart of the Indian country, with every separate tribe ranging between the Yellowstone and the Brazos, either restless or openly on the war-path. Rumors of atrocities were being retold the length and breadth of the border, and every report drifting in to either fort or settlement only added to the alarm. For once at least the Plains Indians had discovered a common cause, tribal differences had been adjusted in war against the white invaders, and Kiowa, Comanches, Arapahoes, Cheyennes and Sioux had become welded together in savage brotherhood. To oppose them were the scattered and unorganized settlers lining the more eastern streams, guarded by small detachments of regular troops posted here and there amid that broad wilderness, scarcely within touch of each other.

Everywhere beyond these lines of patrol wandered roaming war parties, attacking travelers on the trails, raiding exposed settlements, and occasionally venturing to try open battle with the small squads of armed men in this stress of sudden emergency—

every available soldier on active duty—civilians had been pressed into service, and hastily despatched to warn exposed settlers, guide wagon trains, or carry despatches between outposts. And thus our rider, Jack Keith, who knew every foot of the plains lying between the Republican and the Canadian rivers, was one of these thus suddenly requisitioned, merely because he chanced to be discovered unemployed by the harassed commander of a cantonment just without the environs of Carson City. Twenty minutes later he was riding swiftly into the northwest, bearing important news to General Sheridan, commander of the Department, who happened at that moment to be at Fort Calnece. To Keith this had been merely another page in a career of adventure; for him to take his life in his hands had long ago become an old story. He had quietly performed the special duty allotted him, watched a squadron of troopers trot forth down the valley of the Republican, received the hasty thanks of the peppery little general, and then, having nothing better to do, traded his horse in at the government corral for a fresh mount and started back again for Carson City. For the greater portion of two nights and a day he had been in the saddle, but he was accustomed to this, for he had driven more than one bunch of longhorns up the Texas trail; and as he had slept three hours at Calnece, and as his nerves were like steel, the thought of danger gave him slight concern. He was thoroughly tired, and it rested him to get out of the saddle, while the freshness of the morning air was a tonic, the very breath of which made him forgetful of fatigue.

After all, this was indeed the very sort of experience which appealed to him, and always had—this life of peril in the open, under the stars and the sky. He had constantly experienced it for so long now, eight years, as to make it seem merely natural. While he ploughed steadily forward through the shifting sand of the conifer, his thought drifted fully back over those years, and sometimes he smiled, and occasionally frowned, as various incidents returned to memory. It had been a rough life, yet one not unusual to those of his generation. Born of excellent family in Tidewater Virginia, his father a successful planter, his mother had died while he was still in early boyhood, and he had grown up cut off from all womanly influence. He had barely attained his majority, a senior at William and Mary's College, when the Civil War came; and one month after Virginia cast in her lot with the South, he became a sergeant in a cavalry regiment commanded by his father. He had enjoyed that life and won his spurs, yet it had cost. There was much not over-pleasant to remember, and those strenuous years of almost ceaseless fighting, of long night marches, of swift, merciless raiding, of lonely scouting within the enemy's lines, of severe wounds, hardship and suffering, had left their marks on both body and soul. His father had fallen on the field at Antietam, and left him utterly alone in the world, but he had fought on grimly to the end, until the last flag of the Confederacy had been furled. By that time, upon the collar of his tattered gray jacket appeared the tarnished insignia of a captain. The quick tears dimmed his eyes even now as he recalled anew that final parting following Appomattox, the battle-worn faces of his men, and his own painful journey homeward, defeated, wounded and penniless. It was no home when he got there, only a heap of ashes and a few weed-grown acres. No familiar face greeted him; not even a slave was left.

He had honestly endeavored to remain there, to face the future and work it out alone; he persuaded himself to feel that this was his paramount duty to the state, to the memory of the dead. But those very years of army life made such a task impossible; the dull, dead monotony of routine, the loneliness, the slowness of results, became intolerable. As it came to thousands of his comrades, the call of the West came to him, and at last he yielded, and drifted toward the frontier. The life there fascinated him, drawing him deeper and deeper into its swirling vortex. He became freighter, mail carrier, hunter, government scout, cowboy, foreman. Once he had drifted into the mountains, and took a chance in the mines, but the wide plains called him back once more to their desert loneliness. What an utter waste it all seemed, now that he looked back upon it. Eight years of fighting, hardship and rough living, and what had they brought him? The reputation of a hard rider, a daring player at cards, a quick shot, a scorner of danger, and a bad man to fool with—that was the whole of a record hardly won. The man's eyes hardened, his lips set firmly, as this truth came crashing home. A pretty life story surely, one to be proud of, and with probably no better ending than an Indian bullet, or the flash of a revolver in some barroom fight.

The narrow valley along which he was traveling suddenly changed its direction, compelling him to climb the rise of the ridge. Slightly below the summit he halted. In front extended the wide expanse of the Arkansas valley, a scene of splendor under the golden rays of the sun, with vivid contrast of colors, the gray of rocks, the yellow of sand, the brown of distant hills, the green of vegetation, and the silver sheen of the stream half hidden behind the fringe of cottonwoods lining its banks. This was a sight Keith had often looked upon, but always with appreciation, and for the moment his eyes swept across from bluff to bluff without thought except for its wild beauty. Then he perceived something which instantly startled him into attention—yonder, close beside the river, just beyond that ragged bunch of cottonwoods, slender spirals of blue smoke were visible. "That would hardly be a camp of freighters at this hour of the day, and besides, the Santa Fe trail along here ran close in against the bluff, coming down to the river at the ford two miles further west. No party of plainsmen would ever venture to build a fire in so exposed a spot, and no small company would take the chances of the trail. But surely that appeared to be the flap of a canvas wagon top a little to the right of the smoke, yet all was so far away he could not be certain. He stared in that direction a long while, shading his eyes with both hands, unable to decide. There were three or four moving black dots higher up the river, but so far away he could not distinguish whether men or animals. Only as outlined against the yellow sand dunes could he tell they were advancing westward toward the ford.

Decidedly puzzled by all this, yet determined to solve the mystery and unwilling to remain hidden there until night, Keith led his horse along the slant of the ridge, until he attained a sharp break through the bluff leading down into the valley. It was a rugged gash, nearly impassable, but a half hour of toil won them the lower prairie, the winding path preventing the slightest view of what might be meanwhile transpiring below. Once safely out in the valley the river could no longer be seen, while barely a hundred yards away, winding along like a great serpent, ran the deeply rutted trail to Santa Fe. In neither direction appeared any sign of human life. As near as he could determine from those distant cottonwoods outlined against the sky, for the smoke spirals were too thin for then to be observed, the spot sought must be considerably to the right of where he had emerged. With this idea in mind he advanced cautiously, his every sense alert, searching anxiously for fresh signs of passage or evidence of a wagon train having deserted the beaten track, and turned south. The trail itself, dustless and packed hard, revealed nothing, but some five hundred yards beyond the ravine he discovered what he sought—here two wagons had turned sharply to the left, their wheels cutting deeply enough into the prairie sod to show them heavily laden. With the experience of the border he was able to determine that these wagons were drawn by mules, two span of each, their small hoofs clearly defined on the turf, and that they were being driven rapidly, on a sharp trot as they turned, and then, in hundred feet further, at a slashing gallop. Just outside their trail appeared the marks of a galloping horse. A few rods farther along Keith came to a confused blur of pony tracks sweeping in from the east, and the whole story of the chase was revealed as though he had witnessed it with his own eyes. They must have been crazy, or else impelled by some grave necessity, to venture along this trail in so small a party. And they were traveling west—west! Keith drew a deep breath, and swore to himself, "Of all the blame fools!"

He perceived the picture in all its gruesome details—the two mule-drawn wagons moving slowly along the trail in the early morning; the band of hostile Indians suddenly swooping out from some obscure hiding place in the bluffs; the discovery of their presence; the desperate effort at escape; the swerving from the open trail in vain hope of reaching the river and finding protection underneath its banks; the frightened mules galloping wildly, lashed into a frenzy by the man on horseback; the pounding of the ponies' hoofs, punctuated by the exultant yells of the pursuers. Again he swore: "Of all the blame fools!"

POLISH WOMEN IN THE LEAD

IMMIGRANTS HAVE AVERAGE OF NEARLY TWICE AS MANY CHILDREN AS AMERICANS.

ALIENS BEAR MOST BABES

Larger Families Are Reared in Rural Districts Than in Cities—Childlessness Among Negroes of North Is Notable Fact.

Washington, April 24.—Dr. J. A. Hill, chief statistician of the division of revision and results of the census bureau, has prepared for the immigration commission a report on the fecundity of immigrant women, based on data collected in the census of 1900. His conclusions are that fecundity is much greater among white women of foreign parentage than among native American women of native parentage, and that it is usually greater in the first generation of foreign stock than in the second.

French-Canadian immigrant women are bearing children two and one-half times as fast as the native Americans. The Italian women closely approach, but do not quite equal, the French-Canadians.

Larger families are reared in the rural districts than in the cities, the returns show. The sections selected for this study were Rhode Island, Cleveland, O., and 48 largely rural counties in Ohio, and Minneapolis, Minn., and 21 largely rural counties in Minnesota.

Polish Women Lead.

Among white women the first generation from Poland bears a child every 2.3 years of married life on the average, while the second generation of English women averages one child every five years. The average for women of foreign parentage is one child every 3.2 years, compared with one in every 5.5 years for women of native parentage.

In the rural districts the women of native American parentage who were in the second decade of their married life had borne on the average one more child than the same class of women in Cleveland and Minneapolis or Rhode Island, the figures for the cities averaging 2.4 compared with 3.4 in the rural counties.

This difference is not usually so marked among women of foreign parentage. As a rule the average number of children in each nationality is highest in rural Minnesota and lowest in the cities or in Rhode Island.

One in Six Childless.

In Rhode Island of the women of native parentage who had been married between ten and twenty years more than one in six had borne no children, while among foreign women the proportion was less than one woman in twelve. The smallest percentages were those for the French-Canadian and Italian women, of whom only one in twenty have had no children, and the largest was that for native negro women, of whom 22.5 per cent. have had no children.

Childlessness among negro women in the north is one of the notable facts brought out in the returns.

Smokeless Frying Pan.

A frying pan said to prevent smoke and odors from emanating from the food being cooked, even onions being included, is described in Popular Mechanics. One side of the wall of the pan has an extra section of wall attached. At this point the inner wall is cut low, and between the two is an opening. With the cover in position on the pan the natural draft of the cooking range starts a circulation through the pan and over the food being cooked, this circulation drawing all smoke and odors down into the fire chamber.

All She Wanted.

Meeting her on the street a few hours before the appointed time for the party, he confided to her that he could not come because he had been unable to get her a present. Anna smoothed it over by saying: "Oh, that's all right, Wilbur. Come any way, and just bring the money."—The Dollmaker.

Slamming Cotton Equals India's.

Japanese cotton mill interests are embarking upon the enterprise of raising cotton in Siam. Considerable Siam cotton has been shipped to Japan at times in recent years and it is said in a general way to equal Indian cotton. Considerable areas in Siam are said to be suitable to cotton growing.

HOW TO DETERMINE A GOOD INVESTMENT

Study The Answers To These Essential Questions About THE WARD SAFETY RAZOR COMPANY.

Question No. 1.

HAVE THE GOODS MERIT?

WARD SAFETY RAZORS are not experimental. They have been in use for over two years. In that time the factory has been built, special machinery constructed and over fifty thousand razors sold. The testimonials from our users absolutely prove that the Ward has the merit. This question is not answered by statements made by us but by the unsolicited evidences of those who have used Ward Safety Razors.

Question No. 2.

WHAT PROFIT IS THERE IN THE GOODS?

In this respect our Company is in the strongest position possible. Our standard sets cost 90c and sell to the dealer for $3.50. At this figure the gross profit is over 250 p. c. on each razor, and, of course, on a million razors the margin of profit would be increased. From the profit standpoint, therefore, the Ward Safety Razor Company unquestionably has wonderful dividend possibilities.

Question No. 3.

IS THE FIELD LARGE ENOUGH TO BUILD UP A LARGE AND PERMANENT BUSINESS?

Shaving is a necessity. You do not shave once, or twice a week or month but you shave every day. The field is unlimited for the Ward is selling just as readily in South America, Canada, Philippine Islands and other foreign countries as it is in the United States. Wherever you find men, you find shavers. It is a matter of only a short time when the Ward will have cut over a million shaving sets. Figure the renewal orders on blades. The demand already exists. The superiority of the Ward Razor only needs to be known to insure a large volume of business.

Question No. 4.

HAVING MERIT, A LARGE PROFIT AND AN INTERNATIONAL FIELD, ARE THE MEN AT THE HEAD OF THE COMPANY HONEST AND COMPETENT?

When you buy shares of stock in a Corporation, you simply place your money in the custody of third parties (Officers), who in their legal capacity as your Trustees, direct its expenditure along certain lines and the full profit of the capital invested is paid to you as the result.

When you place your money in the Bank, you do nearly the same thing, the chief difference being that you receive only a part of the profits your money earns. You, however, intrust your money to the control of third parties precisely as you do in a Corporation.

The Officers and Directors of the Ward Safety Razor Company are men of the highest standing in the business and commercial world. Their character and ability are vouched for not only by the record of this Company but by a number of large stockholders and prominent Bankers here in Chicago and elsewhere.

Read the letters of the Continental-Commercial National Bank, Chicago, Ill.; Foreman Bros. Banking Co., Chicago, Ill.; Commercial Bank, Blue Island, Ill.; Mercantile Bank, Kansas City; W. R. Towney, General Agent of the British-American Assurance Company; The Fidelity-Phoenix Fire Insurance Company; A. R. Dye, of the American Thread Company; W. G. Potts, of the Real Estate firm of Potts Brothers; E. J. Clark, of the Chicago Post Office; and numerous others.

Question No. 5.

HOW SAFE IS THE INVESTMENT?

This enterprise is past the experimental stage. Ward Safety Razors have been in use for two years and the Company is now on a commercial basis. The business of this Corporation is not affected by legislation or the general financial conditions of the country or countries, in which the Company is doing business. Seasons of the year do not affect this business. A business man shaves just as often during panic as during periods of prosperity. No other line of business could be more permanent, nor safer than the Ward Safety Razor business.

Question No. 6.

HOW SOON WILL THE COMPANY PAY DIVIDENDS? HOW LARGE MAY THEY REASONABLY BE EXPECTED TO BE?

In our answer to question No. 3, we ascertain that there is a wide field for Ward Razors. The Company is doing business right now not only in every state in the United States but in eleven foreign countries. This business is increasing daily, not only as to volume but as to territory and the margin of profits being so large and the sale of these goods to reputable, high-class merchants, forces us to the conclusion that in the bounds of reason and in the light of our past and present experience we have every right to assume that the dividends on this stock should run from 30 to 40 p. c. and that same should be available by the end of 1911.

Ward Safety Stock is selling today at One Dollar per share to supply an advertising campaign fund which will push the Ward Safety Razor into Central and South America, Australia, South Africa and Europe, creating the markets which Ward Safety stock will coin into profits for you.

ARE YOU GOING TO GET YOUR SHARE OF THESE PROFITS? Your opportunity is HERE, NOW. ACT QUICKLY. Let me tell you more about the Ward and men who make it—who they are and what they are.

Public Utilities Of Janesville

The public utilities of a city are of interest to the people of the community and their condition and facilities for handling their particular line of business are always of interest to the manufacturer seeking a location. For instance, the Brunswick Bolk Collendar Co. were interested to know the horsepower and ability to handle heavy electric business of the Electric Co.; other prospective concerns have inquired as to our Gas Light Co. and Water Co. They have always been well satisfied with the condition of these properties and it is well to know that we have here up-to-date efficient public service companies, whose service compares well with any city in the country. Modern methods and ample capacity make them of great value in negotiating with the location of new industries.

INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL CLUB.

"If That Be Treason."

It was during the Parnell agitation in Ireland that an anti-Parnellite, criticizing the ways of tenants in treating absentee landlords, exclaimed to Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia: "Why, it looks very much like treason." Instantly came the answer in the archbishop's best brogue: "Sure, treason is reason when there's an absent 2."—Everybody's Magazine.

Prompt Treatment for Colds.

A child's cold should be treated directly it makes an appearance, and in this way it will be prevented very often from becoming really bad. Give the little one a hot bath, dry him quickly and put him into bed, and then let him have some hot milk to sip. See that he does not throw the bed clothes off while he is perspiring after this treatment. Rub his chest and back with camphorated oil in the morning and at night.

Action of Thunderbolt.

An extraordinary phenomenon was seen in New Zealand recently when what is supposed to have been a thunderbolt struck and shattered the Grand hotel August at Rotorua. The guide at the hotel describes the thunderbolt, which resembled a ball of fire, as falling into the yard like a meteor to within a foot of the ground five feet away from where he stood. It gave a great flash, the flame blinding him for a moment, then rose, soaring like a balloon over the roof of the hotel. It struck the August and exploded with a loud noise.

Sharp Tongues.

Men ought to find the difference between saltiness and bitterness. Certainly he that hath a satirical vein, as he maketh others afraid of his wit, so he hath need be afraid of others' memory.—Francis Bacon.

Land of Windmills.

The great windmill country is Argentina. Plenty of water from 15 to 300 feet underground throughout the vast, level, unbroken plain, as extensive in area as one-third of the whole United States, but all like our prairie lands; and wind blowing across the even stretches all the year round. The grazing lands are dotted with windmills, and Argentina keeps on importing them, chiefly from Yankeealand, at the rate of more than a thousand a month.

Never have to pick it up or down again in a clean place. When you drop it down, it stays down. After all, the best place to put it is in the trash can.

Shoes At Cost, Plus 5%

The Regal Shoe Co. Announces a New Policy That Will Shake Up the Shoe Trade

Regal Prices Are Now $3<sup>35</sup> to $5<sup>85</sup>

Here is a letter from the Regal Shoe Company that will begin a new era in the shoe business. It will be an earthquake for the shoe trade, but, like other Regal innovations, a benefit to the public, in which purchasers of Regal Shoes will first share. No concern having a plant and organization less powerful than the Regal Company's could dare to so defy trade custom. But—

It Means Greater Variety and Greater Value in Regal Shoes Than Ever.

To Regal Agents and Regal Customers Everywhere:

Boston, February 1st, 1911.

The retail price of every shoe hereafter produced in our factories will be the manufacturing cost of that shoe, plus five per cent. commission and the cost of selling.

Except that we shall not "split" nickels, every price will be fixed exactly as it thus figures, regardless of whether it comes out in odd or even money. Thus, if the cost of any model, plus 5%, is $3.85, the price of that model will be $3.85—not $4.00, or any other figure. And this price will be verified and certified by chartered public accountants and stamped on the shoe at the factory.

This smashes the immemorial shoe-trade policy of building all high-grade shoes to fit certain arbitrary prices. The trade will, undoubtedly, rise in protest against our action, and call us "price-cutters." But like Regal innovations in the past, it will benefit Regal customers. In face of that fact we can disregard this protest as we have others.

This is NOT a price cut, although the result will be to give Regal Shoe buyers better value for price than ever before. Regal Shoes have always been priced at 5% above cost of manufacture and selling. But, according to universal custom, the prices were fixed BEFOREHAND at $3.50, $4.00, $4.50, etc.—and the shoes were built AFTERWARD to fit those prices.

Hereafter we shall regard the shoe as FIRST in importance and let the price fall where it will. Regal customers will therefore profit by numberless small savings represented in the new Regal plan. And in designing Regal Shoes we shall no longer be obliged to keep one eye on the shoe and the other on a fixed, arbitrary price at which it must be sold. We shall now keep both eyes ON THE SHOE, to the improvement both of style and of value.

Very truly yours,

Ed Bliss
Managing Director
Regal Shoe Company.

D.J. LUBY & CO.

D.J. LUBY & CO.

Do You Realize What This Bombshell Letter Means?

This means an end of the arbitrary prices on shoes.

These arbitrary prices have for years been fixed on good shoes immovably at $3.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00, $5.50, and so on; each price always a half-dollar jump away from the next.

If a designer produced a new shoe which could properly be sold at, say, $4.30, the manufacturer had either to take something out of it to bring the price to $4.00 or to add extra and unnecessary expense merely to shove the price up to $4.50.

Thus you can see that under the fixed-price system the customer often had to buy and pay for more than was actually necessary. True, the difference was seldom large—20 to 30 cents at most—and true, too, that in Regal Shoes the full money's worth was always given. But, what the customer wanted was TO GET A SATISFACTORY SHOE—not to pay a certain price. Why should he be forced to pay in half-dollars if satisfaction could be given in dimes? Why must he pay $5.00 if all that he wanted could be had at $4.85?

Hereafter, as Mr. Bliss' letter states, every Regal price will be made to fit the shoe, not the shoe to fit the price. If the Regal Shoe-builders produce a style that can be sold for $3.85, then $3.85 will be the price. Nothing will be added merely to bring its price to $4.00, nor will anything be taken out to make its price $3.50. The customer gains both ways and the Regal style-makers now have a free hand, unfettered by tradition.

With this new freedom, and with the whole attention of the Regal organization fixed on standards of quality, regardless of the ups and downs of the leather market, Regal Shoes will more than ever be the best that money can buy.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

I've been meditating today on the surprising amount of pleasure to be gotten by juggling about a few pieces of wood; in other words, rearranging the furniture in a room.

The spring fever, the call of the red gods, the spring passion for change and wandering is strong in your blood some morning, and as it is impossible for you to find an outlet in travel you are forced to seek a vent for these feelings in activities within the home. Consequently, it behooves the housewife to clear the living room, you promptly decide that that room has been in a state of confusion too long, and forthwith you advance upon it and proceed to try out your old knowledge of permutation and combination with the amount of floor space and wall space and the pieces of furniture for your alcoholic quantities.

Happily you find the same much easier than in your student days and visible objects much simpler to deal with than paper and pencil and elusive X, Y & Z's.

You begin, of course, by sitting on the couch, surveying the scene and taking stock of those exasperating pieces of furniture that for some inherent reason simply cannot be shifted around. The desk must stay right there between the two windows because that is the only good light, and the secretary can't be moved because it is the only piece of furniture of just the right shape to cover that marred place in the paper, and, of course, the reading table must remain in the middle of the room, but the couch and the two bookcases and the tea table and the big anvil chair and the three smaller wicker chairs can all be juggled about to suit your fancy.

No, with the aid of your maid's stout arms you let that fancy run riot, trying this effect and that, piling the books all out of the bookcases, pulling the pictures down from the walls, dragging the couch hither and thither, and juggling the chairs about like the little pellets in a clover.

Finally, by dint of many attempts to your mind's judgment, by exhaustive demands on your own taste, and by aid of the wise decision handed down by a neighbor who dropped in to borrow a dash of cinnamon—her grocer being unaccountably late with her order—you make the final decision and proceed to restore order out of the chaos you have created.

Just about here your enthusiasm flags a bit, and you wish you hadn't been quite so prodigal and lavish in your upsetting of the established order of things, but your desire to have everything all settled before John and the children come home to lunch spurs you on, and by noon you have the room in order in its new guise.

Strange how very different and unfamiliar the most familiar piece of furniture can look from a new angle—now that couch, why it looks just like a visitor sitting there in that corner, and yet you've had it—yes, the year before last was born—twelve years.

Strange, too, how an arrangement that you once condemned, by the all-renewing action of the years, can be recommended again to you. Two years ago, when you made John help you take all the books out of those bookcases, so you could move them away from their station beside the fireplace, you declared you'd never have them there again. And now you've put them back. Ah, well, that was two years ago. Isn't that reason enough for your change of mind? And truly, they do look different now. Perhaps it is because the couch also is in a new place. You do hope that John will have forgotten the trials of that evening when he wanted so much to smoke and read the paper instead of moving books, but you have your doubts.

Luncheon time justifies those doubts. "Why on earth," is John's first question when you conduct him in to see the wonders you have wrought. "Why on earth have you put those bookcases where you said you'd never have them again? I remember one evening when you couldn't wait,"—me.

But being a good John he subsides as soon as he has blown off steam, and tells you it looks fine and that you are a dear little manager. The children approve, too, as children always do of anything new, and altogether you are sure that you have had a very profitable and interesting morning, and feel quite as elated and excited—and incidentally as tired—as if you had been in town shopping and spent a lot of money. And just think, all that pleasure and excitement quite, quite, "free gratis."

Some terribly artistic person has recently informed me that in every room there is just one right place for each piece of furniture, and that when this arrangement has been discovered it should never be changed.

My, aren't you glad that you aren't that artistic and can still revel in the delicious and inexpensive excitement of "changing things round?"

CHARACTER EVERYTHING.

A judge not long ago in imposing sentences upon a man for an injury he had attempted to do a woman, said: "To a woman reputation is everything. Without it she can not live in respectability nor can she associate with people who make pretensions to being respectable. Society will tolerate a man with a blotch on his reputation." And he was right.

We haven't yet got away from the old code that maintained one line of conduct for women and another for men. There is not yet equality even in morals. That is, in so far as the world and its opinion is concerned. However, that is neither here nor there. The woman who keeps good faith with herself isn't asking what the world may think about a thing. She's demanding to know what her own conscience thinks. When that refuses to sanction a contemplated course of action she knows that she can't afford to do it.

The woman with dignity of character is ambitious to keep both character and reputation unimpaired. Some one has said that reputation is what the world thinks us; character is what we know ourselves to be. Therefore it is quite important to know ourselves true.

Our faces, our pose and our very attitude are the signs by which we indicate to the world what we really are. Our thoughts chisel themselves in our lineaments until our faces become the indexes of our souls. A look into the face reveals the sort of a woman one is. A disconcerted mind writes itself in the face as truly as does the contented mind.

The vicious thought, the unholy desire and the unfortunate inclination are graven there just as well as is the charity of the soul and the purity of the mind.

Thoughts are the chisels with which we carve the countenance. A fine character is shown in the face as truly as it is made known by noble deeds. Therefore, the face becomes the index of character and the catalogue of one's virtues or vices.

Show character is the important measure by which our place in society is fixed in the eyes of each of us to guard it as something infinitely precious. Just as we reject the flawed jewel so does society reject the woman who has permitted her character to become stained and her reputation smirched.

The girl who imagines she may be careless and then when she chooses to return to those she has shamed, make them receive her at her original valuation as a spotless character, is mightily mistaken. The world is a severe critic and it often sits in judgment upon seemingly harmless things. When society renders its verdict against a woman it leaves a blot upon her reputation hard to remove even with the tears of repentance.

Happy the girl or woman who has kept the priceless jewel of reputation unblemished, who realizes that character is above the price of rubies and that no sacrifice is too great to keep it in its natural lustre.

To Women Readers

There are just seven more days for the present menu contest. It is time to think of what you will arrange for the twenty-one meals that will comprise the means for one week.

During the week a few samples will be printed to give an idea to all contestants as to how they should be arranged. This will be in aid to all and may give some suggestions to readers even if they do not contemplate entering the contest.

One request has come in for a recipe for planking fish. As this is a rather unusual request an answer has been delayed until the "Feature Editor" could obtain a good recipe that had been tried and not found wanting. Here it is.

Heat and oil an oak plank made for this purpose; spread upon this, skin side down, the fish, dressed and cleaned and split down the underside. Brush over with butter or oil, and set in the dripping pan in the lower gas oven, at first near the burners and after cooking a few moments remove to the floor of the oven to finish cooking. Cook about twenty-five minutes, broiling often. Set the fish on the plank upon a platter. Spread the fish with three level tablespoons of butter creamed and mixed with salt and pepper and a tablespoon of lemon juice. Garnish the edge of the plank with mashed potatoes, fashioned with a forefinger and tube, slices of lemon and parsley.

A fish chowder has also been asked for and the following is a recipe that has proved its worth.

In a large soup kettle lay a half pound of fat salt pork, chopped into tiny bits, and fry until crisp; then add an onion, also minced, and fry slightly. Now lay in this hot fat two pounds of fresh fish, cut into dice, and four cold boiled potatoes sliced. Cover with a quart of boiling water and cook for half an hour. Have ready in another vessel two cups of hot milk, in which have been melted two table-spoonsful of butter. Break into this six hard crackers and let them soak for a few minutes. Stir the contents of both vessels together, season with salt and pepper and pour into a tureen.

The following is a suggestion for a change in the breakfast cereals. Of course there are many that come prepared and do not need cooking, but like oatmeal, mush, hominy has to be prepared.

Wash a cup of hominy and soak it overnight; in the morning heat into it gradually two cups of hot milk, into which has been stirred a little salt; turn all into a double boiler, and boil for at least an hour, beating occasionally; serve with an abundance of milk or cream.

So many people serve hard, moist potatoes that one would not think it so easy to make them light and mealy. If the potatoes are large, always cut them in two lengthwise before boiling. When finished, drain off water, set the uncovered saucepan over a slight heat, and shake occasionally till all the moisture from the potato has escaped in steam.

If enough recipes have not been published for your use be sure and make the request before it is too late. The contest closes a week from today. That is, that is the last day any recipe that can be used will be published.

The four prizes are as follows:
First prize—Caloric Mireless Cooker.
Second prize—$5.00 in gold.
Third prize—$2.00.
Fourth prize—$1.00.
Any question relative to the contest should be addressed "Feature Editor, Gazette."

Salads.

During the warm weather with so many crisp, green vegetables in our markets, salads form a large part of our food. Sliced cucumbers and tomatoes with lettuce and French dressing are always cooling and refreshing.

Salads contain salts of different kinds, whose properties are cooling to the blood and furnish it with necessary material.

Green onions, celery and lettuce are known to have medicinal value and should be often on our tables.

The fruit salads make delicious desserts and much more wholesome than the heavy desserts of rich pastry.

Pineapple and strawberries make a delicious combination, if served with sponge cake or cookies. No better dessert could be prepared.

Potato salad may make the main dish for a luncheon. To three or four cooked potatoes sliced, add one minced green onion, a cupful of celery, half a cup of almonds, blanched and shredded, a cucumber chopped. With a boiled dressing this makes a very fine salad. The nuts may be omitted if expense is to be an item, but they add greatly to the flavor and also food value.

Another sweet salad liked by many is fresh muskmelon cut in cubes with a little lemon juice and sugar added. Some like a grating of nutmeg over the melon, but too much flavor detracts from the delicate flavor of the melon. Lemon juice seems to have the power of intensifying the flavors of fruits if a little is used.

The apple, celery and nut salad with dressing never loses its popularity, served either in apple cups or on lettuce leaves.

Russell Sandwiches.

Take an equal amount of cold boiled chicken and boiled tongue, the meat of a dozen olives and six hard cooked eggs; mix all together, and chop them as fine as possible. When about the consistency of powder add mayonnaise to make a paste, and spread on buttered bread.

New Way to Make Apple Dumplings

Served With Hard Sauce or Cream and Sugar

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Here is a new way to make apple dumplings that will surely please every housewife, for it is not necessary to have whole apples, and the juice cannot run out and burn as with apple dumplings where the apple is placed in the center and the dough turned up around it. The biscuit part forms a crispy shell that holds the apples and juice.

K C Apple Dumplings

One and one-half cups sifted flour; 1/2 teaspoonful salt; 3 level teaspoonsful K C Baking Powder; 1/2 cup shortening; about 1/2 cup milk; apples.

Fill the cups of a buttered muffin pan with moist and sliced apples, sprinkle with salt and turn two or three table-spoonsful of water into each cup. Sift together, three times, the flour, salt and baking powder; work in the shortening, and mix to a soft dough with the milk. Drop the dough from a spoon with the apples in the cups, giving it a smooth exterior. Let bake about twenty-five minutes. Invert the pan on a large serving dish, but instead of hard sauce serve the apple in each dumpling and finish with a grating of nutmeg.

This is one of the many new, delicious and appetizing recipes contained in the K C Cook Book, which may be obtained free by sending the colored certificate back to the K C Food Co., Chicago. The book is the 25-cent special offer and does not contain Cook's Book certificate.

June

Ho, soft of foot and sure of foot she treads the hills and hollows. The trees wave baby banners giving welcome as she comes. For well they know that all the laughing troop of summer follows.

With daisies that pipe upon their tips and crickets with their drums. The faust blossom pours its wine, the dewy air perfumes. The fields have a forgotten winter's dry and whirled hush. And beating by on blazing wings a beetle comes a-buzzing. To thread an aimless arabesque down the ways of dusk.

Ho, swift of foot and sure of foot she comes to wake the roses. She comes to rouse the brooklet till its bubbles are gleaming. She comes to weave her spells at noon until the forest closes. And all the golden miles of day are wrapt within a dream.

NEWSPAPER FOR BOSTON.

April 21—When Richard Pierce decided to start a newspaper in Boston in 1830 he probably was not aware of what changes he was taking. Or else he didn't know how thick-skinned a real legislator was. At any rate Dick said that a lot of doubtful things were being gossip about and he was going to put the folks right by printing a paper called the "Public Occurrence." Its most noticeable "occurrence" was when the Massachusetts legislature suppressed the sheet after the first publication on the ground that it said things that weren't fit to eat, about some of the lawmakers. If legislators could do a stunt of that kind at the present day the parchment would be bulging with smart young men now have the average solon standing on his (the solon's) head. The first real for sure newspaper in this country was first printed in Boston on April 24, 1704, and the "Boston News" was its proud title. John Campbell was its first editor, and in view of the fact that it was a weekly, and printed on a sheet about the size of a soap wrapper it is safe to say that John also collected the ads and sawed the wood that Rubie hauled in from the country as part payment for subscription.

DAILY DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN Food Specialist

GAINED 11 POUNDS ON MONODIET.

Readers of these Hints are constantly reporting great benefit from following the suggestions. The following is especially interesting because the writer put the suggestions into practice in a systematic way and obtained practical results: "Having missed the Hints for several months, I went to the public library where a file of the paper is kept and read them from the beginning. I have since adopted a monodiet of apples for breakfast, beans and brown bread for luncheon; dates for dinner and buttermilk with all at bedtime. I have gained eleven pounds since adopting this diet." I do not say that this is an ideal diet under all circumstances, but it is certainly much better than the incompatible mixtures eaten by the average reader, and the result reported might be expected, though it would not follow so quickly in all cases. The essential thing is to make some improvement.

ures Catarrh

Also Coughs, Colds, Croup and Sore Throat.

The People's Drug Co. guarantees HYOMEL (pronounced, I High-ome) to cure catarrh, acute or chronic, to cure colds, coughs, croup and sore throat, or money back.

In cases of deafness caused by catarrh, there is no remedy so efficient. HYOMEL is a liquid extracted from the eucalyptus trees of Australia, and is a soothing, healing, germ killing antiseptic.

A complete HYOMEL outfit consisting of a bottle of HYOMEL and an indestructible hard rubber pocket inhaler costs $1.00. For treating catarrh or any throat or nose ailment pour a few drops into the inhaler and breathe.

That's all you have to do, and as the air passes through the inhaler it becomes impregnated with antiseptic HYOMEL, and this soothing, healing air as it passes into the lungs reaches every particle of the inflamed membrane, kills the germs and heals the raw, sore catarrhal spots.

If you own a HYOMEL Inhaler you can buy an extra bottle of HYOMEL for only 50 cents at The People's Drug Co. or druggists everywhere. Free sample trial treatment from Bough's Hyomel Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

"Fur is the way of the smuggling bells are hard nowadays."

NEW DESIGN OF HEADDRESS

Semi-Transparent Gold Tinsel the Basis for Really Pretty Adornment.

An odd and becoming headdress to be worn in the evening, especially at the theater, where hair is likely to be missed from the chignon scarf or hat, is a cap-like arrangement of semi-transparent gold tinsel.

This fits closely over the back of the hair and around the face are turban folds of shimmering tinsel to match, or sometimes yellow chiffon is used. The hair comes from under this cap in soft curls or loose waves.

Another smart evening culture has a wide band of black velvet ribbon brought round the hair about the middle of the head. This band is embroidered with detached violets in colored jewels, different shades of amethysts usually. There are also forget-me-nots in blue stones, and rosebuds in coral.

Soft turban bands of gold theme are held round the head by slides of French jewelry. These slides are also effective when gauze folds the color of the frock are used.

A New Button.

The enameled button which has become so much the vogue has really reached artistic merit. It is strange how the pendulum of fashion swings around. These buttons that were in such high favor in other days have come into their own again, and deservedly so, for they are infinitely more beautiful than buttons of any other design. One sees them in the palest of greens and gold enamel, rimmed with cut steel pearls, silver and chased gold.

TRANSLATION OF ENGLISH BIBLE

STORY TOLD BY REV. DAVID BEATON IN SERMON YESTERDAY.

OF NATIONAL IMPORTANCE

Introduction of Christianity Always Followed by Translation of Bible into Tongue of Common People.

That the translation of the bible into the tongue of the common people followed the introduction of Christianity into every country and that in the case of every such translation it has been associated with events of public and not private importance, were the statements of Rev. David Beaton in a sermon on "How We Got Our English Bible" at the morning services at the Congregational church yesterday.

"All that I shall say," said Rev. Beaton, "will tend to show that the translation of the bible into English was never of private or ecclesiastical importance but was of national importance. And it is also well to note that the recent world-wide peace movement in which President Taft has attained international distinction, was almost simultaneous with the retranslation of the bible into English. These two events will loom up in history as nothing has done since the Napoleonic wars."

"The religious book of any race has ever been the soul and backbone of that race. It has always been the seed out of which has sprung the genius of the people. In the history of all races, their intellectual progress, their religious and moral power and their liberty have all centered around and sprung from these books. On top of all this the race which has and will control the political destiny of all the world is now celebrating the retranslation of the bible into the language of the people."

"The bible is the literature of the people. Wherever the missionaries have brought the bible into a foreign land the first thing that they have done is to translate the book into the language of the people. The bible which was recognized by the Roman Catholic church to be authentic, was a common tongue. Like the translation of the bible into the German tongue, was the foundation of all the German classics, so in every case of the translation of the bible into the language of the people in any land, it was the groundwork of their later literary achievements. It has been this way in the past and will be that way in the future."

"The moment the common people read the bible in their own language, they became possessed with the spirit of its teachings. What has been the influence of the translation of the bible into English on the Anglo-Saxon race? First, it made the bible a link of political freedom and in every movement for liberty from the Magna Charta up to the present that book was always the foundation of freedom. Second, it has been the prose masterpiece of the English tongue, in that, no purer form of the language can be found than is contained in the translation. Lastly, it has been the ground-work of the education of the people. Those who have seen the bible abolished from the public school cannot deny it. Not only the bible and yet not only that, but the heroism and scholarship of the English speaking people."

"The priests of that day did not want to see the bible translated into English, and the blow which was struck to bring about this translation was struck by a politician. Chaucer may be called the father of poetry, but John Wycliffe was the father of English prose. There would have been no Shakespeare, no Bacon and no Newton and there would have been no English language, but the informed Saxon had it not been for the fact that Wycliffe saw the need of the translation of the bible into the common tongue. He met the stormy opposition of Rome and they would have him burned at the stake."

"In these days when we are talking of reciprocity, the tariff and the popular election of senators we can look back on the times when the English parliament was discussing the translation of the bible. And at this time comes the work of the politician referred to and his name was John Gaunt. This man, a politician pure and simple, came into parliament and said 'Every nation since Christ has had the bible translated into its own tongue. And we to be the dogs of every nation and is Rome to tell us that we cannot? He was using this for political purposes, but that party brought about the translation of the bible into English. Directly following this came William Tyndale, a priest who could not deny the people the word of God. Tyndale was the first to see the fundamental principles of scholarship in the translation of the bible into the common tongue of the people. If upon the occasion of the retranslation of the translation there were to be a statue erected to some man, this would not be James I nor John Gaunt, but it would be of William Tyndale. It was he who made the translation and who to pay for his 'heresy' was burned at the stake and the reason that the book is a book of power and that it holds you is because it grew out of the lives of the men who wrote it. The bible does not live out of any ecclesiastical authority, but from the experience of the men and women like ourselves, whose blood was the ink in which it was written."

"As long as there is love between husband and wife and between one being and another, so long will the bible live in the spiritual life of each and every one of us."

MONROE MAY HAVE BASE BALL TEAM

Fans Are Manifesting Enthusiasm Over Prospects For Present Season.—Other Monroe Items.

Monroe, April 23.—Baseball fans of this city are manifesting a strong desire to have a baseball team and schedule of good games again this summer. The first scheduled team was brought to Monroe last season and the menbers were gentlemen, both on the diamond and off, and were class players. Applications have already been received from men with established field reputations and will come to Monroe for less money than they could get elsewhere. The Chicago West End have written for dates and the Cuban Squares, also, can be looked. The Monroe Fire Department has taken the matter of management of a baseball team under consideration, should the majority of the members decide in favor of launching the team, baseball for Monroe for 1911 will be a certainty.

Local Talent Play. The Enchanted Wood, the fairy opera, given by local talent under the direction of Miss Caroline Booth, was a great success, a wonderful house witnessing the production. PRESIDENT CHAMPIONS YOUNG WOMAN SCORNED

Naval Academy Official Will Apologize for Insult at Annapolis to Professor Beers's Daughter.

Washington, April 24.—Because some officer who was misinformed as to her position in a navy family objected to her presence at a navy hop in Annapolis, Miss Mary H. Beers, daughter of Professor Beers of Yale university, will receive an apology from the United States navy. Capt. J. M. Bowyer, superintendent of the naval academy, at which the incident occurred, will frame and forward the apology. By direction of President Taft, Secretary of the Navy Meyer has made an investigation of the affair. President Taft is particularly interested in the case, because he studied under Prof. Beers at Yale.

Captain Bowyer offered to make an apology if the department thought such action desirable. Secretary Meyer thought an injustice had been done to Prof. Beers and his daughter, and it is understood, suggested that Captain Bowyer apologize.

According to the investigation made by the navy department, Miss Beers was employed as a companion to the wife of Lieutenant Commander William T. Tarrant, who is engineer officer of the battleship Michigan of the Atlantic fleet. She was invited to one of the naval academy hops by a midshipman. She attended the dance, and shortly afterward left for her home in New Haven.

One of the officers on duty at Annapolis suggested to the midshipman, on the supposition that Miss Beers was a domestic, that she should not have been invited to the hop. The midshipman, according to the report received at the department, replied that he disagreed personally with the view of his superiors at the academy. The interview developed that Captain Bowyer was responsible for the suggestion that Miss Beers was not a desirable guest at academy social events.

Prof. Beers learned of the incident and complained to the navy department. Representative Korbly of Indiana, who read of the affair in the newspapers, wrote a letter to Secretary Meyer protesting against the alleged snubbery.

SAVANT CALLS WIFE POISONER.

Doctor O'Malley Asks Divorce From Beautiful Young Spouse.

Philadelphia, April 21.—Dr. Austin O'Malley, noted as a scholar and scientist throughout the world, for years head of the department of English at Notre Dame university, has applied for a divorce from his beautiful young wife.

Not only does Dr. O' charge his wife with having endeavored to poison him, but he declares she robbed his brother of jewels and at one time attempted to elope with William J. Hearle, son of a New York broker. After making all these charges, the technical grounds for the divorce is desertion.

Dr. O'Malley met his wife, who previous to her marriage was Miss Alice Ellis, one of San Francisco's most beautiful girls, while she was a pupil at Notre Dame and he was an instructor. After a courtship of two years, lasting from 1898 to 1900, the couple were married in New York, in which city William Ellis, father of the bride, had moved.

KEEP FAMILIES ON $2 A DAY.

Man Who Cannot Do So Called Ignorant or Wasteful.

Boston, April 21.—An adult male can decently support a family of five on $200 a year, or $12 a week, and if he cannot he is either ignorant or wasteful, declared Magistrate Alexander, member of the Massachusetts commission of workmen's compensation, in an address. Mr. Alexander said he found 10,000 employees of a certain large Massachusetts manufacturing company living comfortably on from $10.50 to $12.15 paid to the head of the house as an average weekly wage. Of this income from $2 to $5 went for rent, $5 cents for heat and light, and from $1.25 to $5 for food.

PITCHER DIES FROM WOUNDS.

"Lefty" Craig Succumbs to Hurt Received From Burglar.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 21.—George M. ("Lefty") Craig, pitcher of the Indianapolis club of the American association, died last night at the City hospital from a bullet wound received in a struggle with a burglar at a Mineral Springs resort, the training quarters of the club, near this city, last Friday night.

The police have been unable to find a clue to the identity of the man that shot Craig.

Craig's home was in Philadelphia. He was twenty-four years old and unmarried.

FIFTEEN DROWN NEAR MANILA.

Launch Is Capsized, but All Americans Rescued.

Manila, April 21.—A steam launch carrying 12 passengers and a crew of 18 was swamped by high seas in a gale outside Cavite. Fifteen of those on board were drowned. Among those on board were three American soldiers. The Americans and several natives were rescued by fishermen.

Interior Official Resigns.

Washington, April 24.—Frank Pierce, assistant secretary of the Interior, tendered his resignation and it was accepted by President Taft.

Sold Good for Tobacco.

The tobacco plant has grown larger and more profuse in the United States than in any other country.

FEZ SITUATION MORE HOPEFUL.

Ottoman Capital Reported Quiet After Rebel Defeat.

Paris, April 24.—The situation in Morocco, while still serious, is more hopeful. The French government received news that quiet prevailed at Fez April 15, the rebels apparently having been subdued by their defeat by Captain Bremond's column April 12, and that there has been little activity since then.

Captain Bremond, who is in command of both the French division and the forces of the sultan, is attempting to reach Fez.

He has been heard from as late as April 18.

Meanwhile General Mehler, at Casablanca, has completed the preparation for a mixed force of tribesmen, French troops and artillery, under Major Simon, which will start soon for Fez.

President Monis, Minister of War Berthou, Minister of Foreign Affairs Cruppi and the military chiefs had a long consultation and it was decided to take further measures to hurry relief to the imperiled people of Fez.

WAR OVER NEW BIBLE VERSION.

Revolt Over Revised Edition Starts Controversy Among Protestants.

New York, April 24.—A revolt against the copyright on the American revised edition of the bible has resulted in a demand for a new translation of the scriptures and threatens to start a controversy among the Protestant churches. The revolt has its home with the presbytery of Minneapolis, which has issued a protest against the condition which gives to Thomas Nelson & Sons the exclusive right to publish the American Standard bible, upon the revision of which the revision committee, consisting of 12 eminent biblical scholars, worked for 30 years.

William Thompson, president of the publishing firm, said that no church organization could take its rights away.

"We have a contract with the American revision committee for 25 years," he said.

TAFT UPHOLDS THE UNITARIANS.

President Says Church Stands for Broadest Principles.

Washington, April 24.—President Taft made a defense of the Unitarian faith at the services in All Souls' church, of which he is a communicant.

"The Unitarian church," said he, "stands for the broadest principles of Christianity, the brotherhood of men and the fatherhood of God."

The president made the statement in connection with the surprising announcement that during his campaign in 1908 a zealous supporter urged him by telegram to deny the report that he was a believer in the Unitarian faith. The president declared that such a demand indicated the need of spreading the doctrine of the church. He also made an earnest plea for contributions to a fund for a proposed new edifice for All Souls.

JAPS ARREST TWO AMERICANS.

Hold Californians for Photographing Malibu Naval Station.

Tokyo, April 24.—Two Californians, named Richardson and Fletcher, were arrested for photographing the Malibu naval station from the deck of a steamship while entering the port. The accused men insisted they had no ulterior motive, but the fact that both were poorly dressed and possessed only $1 between them helped to strengthen the suspicion against them. The men are being detained.

COFFEE CONGESTION.

Causes a Variety of Ails.

A happy old lady in Wisconsin says: "During the time I was a coffee drinker I was subject to sick headaches, sometimes lasting 2 or 3 days, totally unfitting me for anything. To this affliction was added, some years ago, a trouble with my heart that was very painful, accompanied by a smothering sensation and faintness. Dyspepsia, also, came to make life harder to bear. I took all sorts of patent medicines but none of them helped me for any length of time. The doctors frequently told me that coffee was not good for me; but without coffee I felt as if I had no breakfast. I finally decided about 2 years ago to abandon the use of coffee entirely, and as I had read a great deal about Postum I concluded to try that for a breakfast beverage."

"I liked the taste of it and was particularly pleased to notice that it did not 'come up' as coffee used to. The bad spells with my heart grew less and less frequent, and finally ceased altogether, and I have not had an attack of sick headache for more than a year. My digestion is good, too, and I am thankful that I am once more a healthy woman. I know my wonderful restoration to health came from getting coffee and using Postum." Name given by the Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason," and it is this. Coffee has a direct action on the liver with some people, and causes partial congestion of that organ preventing the natural outlet of the secretions. They may follow biliousness, sallow skin, headaches, constipation and finally a change of the blood corpuscles and nervous prostration.

Read the little book, "The Road to Well-Being," in pink. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

Sunlight grows the Hops But will ruin the Brew Many Americans prefer beer in a light bottle. Most brewers follow the course of least resistance. Light starts decay even in pure beer. Dark glass gives protection against light. Schlitz is sold in brown bottles, to protect its purity from the brewery to your glass. The first Schlitz was brewed in a hut over 60 years ago. Now our agencies dot the earth. Our output exceeds a million barrels a year. If you knew what we know about beer, you would say, "Schlitz—Schlitz in Brown Bottles." Jos. The Janesville Daily Gazette, April 24, 1871.

Boat Club.
Steps are being taken to organize a boat club in this city, the parties having the matter assuming us that it promises success. This is the right sort of a move and we hope to see it encouraged. The river which flows through the center of the city affords ample territory for exercise of this nature. The time which it is necessary to devote can be taken at the close of the day and the nature of the duties incumbent on young men need be neglected for the need of recreation. We have tried baseball and failed—now let us have a boat club.

POSTAL DEFICIT IS WIPED OUT.
Hitchcock Announces Burden of $17,600,000 is Lifted.
Washington, April 24.—"A deficit in the operation of the post office department of $17,600,000, inherited by the present administration of the postal service, practically has been wiped out," said Postmaster General Hitchcock.

SOUTH AFRICAN WRECK TOLL 32.
Heartrending Experiences Attend Rescue From Deep Gorge.
Grahamstown, Cape Colony, South Africa, April 24.—According to the latest estimates 32 persons were killed in the wreck of a passenger train on the Kowlo railway, when it plunged to destruction into a gorge 250 feet deep through the collapse of the Blauwkrantz bridge Saturday. In addition many were injured. Rescue work involved heartrending experiences. One little girl was caught in a fork of the bridge and held by one foot over the ravine. The rescuers had to scale ladders to the height of 200 feet to bring her down.

Race Bill Killed in Colorado.
Denver, Colo., April 24.—Hopes of race followers that legislative action would permit of horse racing in Colorado, with betting taken from under the ban of the law, were killed when the senate, by a vote failed to pass the racing and gambling bill over Governor's veto.

Farmer Shoots Wife and Self.
South Bend, Ind., April 24.—Following a quarrel, Fred Martensson, a LaPorte county farmer, shot and killed his wife and then shot himself. He will probably die.

Good Record for Roadmaking.
It is highly creditable to the townships of Ontario that they have spent over $10,000,000 on roads during the last ten years. It also shows that they have no fear of automobiles.

Drunkness in 1600.
An English traveler, writing in the year 1600, said that there were more saloons in Dublin than in any other city in the world. The Irish, he said, always got drunk at wakes, weddings and fairs. "The English were not far behind them, and over on the continent alcohol was also making good headway. Here in America, too, drinking was becoming a popular sport."

Welsh Rabbit Recipe.
"You are a great success with a chafing dish," said the admiring guest. "Tell us how you manage it." "It's very simple," replied Mr. Crosslow. "You take everything your wife has set out on the table for you and put it into the chafing dish. Then you light the alcohol lamp underneath and with a large spoon stir the mixture vigorously until your wife tells you to stop."

Woman's Need of Rest.
Every woman should have at least a short time in the day in which she rests, and it should be a regular time. She should close her eyes, withdraw her thoughts from everything and really rest. Fifteen or twenty minutes of such absolute rest every day counts for a great deal.
